1. Introduction

What we do

Healthwatch East Riding is the independent consumer champion for health and social care. We have the power and influence to ensure people's voices are heard by those providing and commissioning local health and social care services. In addition to seeking the public's views ourselves, we also encourage services to involve people in decisions that affect them.

Healthwatch also has a statutory power to 'Enter and View' local services; where we provide recommendations for improvement. To find out more, please visit: <https://www.healthwatcheastridingofyorkshire.co.uk/enter-and-view/>

Every month, Healthwatch gathers information from the public about local health and social care services; which is shared anonymously with the providers and commissioners of these services. This process allows for issues to be addressed as early as possible in order to prevent further escalation.

Negative Experiences

Service Name:	Manor House Surgery	PCN:	Bridlington
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	4 February 2023
Experience:	"Had Telephone Appointment with Dr. Told he wanted face to face Appointment with me, Contact surgery after 1week, no appointments. Called In surgery again after 2week wait, no appointments. Why are we told to ring surgery at 8am or go there 8am, if they have appointments why do I need to contact them. When Dr. said I need Face to Face appointment, I am still waiting after 2 weeks. Just wonder how much worse it can get, the system needs sorting, stress levels getting worse with patients."

Experience:	"Myself and my family have only been using this Practice since October 2022 and so far, we can only speak highly of everyone that we have had contact with including Doctors, Nurses and Receptionists. We have been listened to and treated in a friendly but professional way. OK you may not always get an appointment on the same day and are sometimes asked to call back the next morning but if you feel it is urgent like I did with chest pains and explain the situation to the Receptionist, I was given an appointment for the same morning. So far so good Thank you all for your help and support. "

Service Name:	Hedon Group Practice	PCN:	Holderness Health
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	14 February 2023
Experience:	"The doctors are great at this Surgery however the dispensary is probably the worst I have ever experienced. Getting a repeat prescription delivered is very difficult. My mother calls them every time there is a problem ordering on the app and the person on the phone says they will sort it and then never does. They say they will call her back to let her know what is happening or if we can pick her pills up but rarely do. This service is terrible"

Experience:	"Where do I start? They do not want patients, put as many hurdles in the way as they can. Don't try to phone, they hate them, never pick up. The online form is terrible. They have not decided to refuse Ventolin inhalers on repeat prescriptions! After 25 years I'll have to buy them online. Shocking practice, it just gets worse and worse. "

Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	25 February 2023
Experience:	"I work an hour away, so I am on the road when you have to call the surgery to book an appt, so it is inevitable that one is going to lose signal and have to keep calling back, however in general there are extremely long wait times on the phone and then all appts are gone. I had an appt with a physician who after call said she would arrange an appt with a doctor as the advice passed on by my own doctor was not acceptable. I received an iron infusion a while ago due to my body not absorbing iron and advised by consultant I would probably need another one in the future. Blood test last Nov showed very low levels of ferritin (though I was not advised till recent appt with physician) identifying I would need an infusion (if my file had been read) I receive a prescription for iron tablets. The Physician advised as my haemoglobin was ok maybe I didn't need an infusion, I advised her that it was ok last time, she checked and said oh yes. I ask to go back on HRT and advise passed on from my doctor

	was no, you can go on an anti-depressants!! Just wow. I receive a text for telephone appt, I call and wait forever to advise the receptionist. I was to have a face to face, you can't was the response, you have to be triaged first, I have I responded. I asked for the doctor to be emailed to advice as told by the physician, chased twice. Still nothing, my telephone appt is next week. Had an appt on the 10th for B12 told by receptionist I was a no show, I showed her my text showing the time of appt and she said, you were a no show. I said my appt is in 10 mins, no it was changed, I was not aware, no apology just blamed the nurse. I have been at this surgery since it was opened. Absolutely appalling service, the staff need customer service training and should remember that patients maybe in a vulnerable place and kindness and manners go a long way. I sent an email last year to the practice manager, no response. I asked that the practice manage call me last year, nothing, I asked to speak to her or an email address recently so I could let her know how I had been treated. You will have to make a complaint came the reply. So, seeing the responses on here to say we are sorry, if you could contact the practice manager is laughable. I have even written to the Partners and still no response... I appreciate that you are all under enormous amount of pressure, however there are things that you can do to make it better for your patients and your staff. "

Experience:	"They decided to have staff training all at once and would not answer the phone to anyone. Which meant loads of people didn't get their meds and some of these people really needed them. They are very rude when you try speaking to them. If I'm honest I'm going to move doctors as these lot have no time or care for their patients. "

Experience:	"For the past 2 years, since my son was born I have been trying to set him up as a proxy on my online account. I completed the forms shortly after he was born and was told they would be processed. A few months later, I went in to query why this hadn't been done and was told they don't set up proxy users anymore. 1. Why let me complete the forms in the first place if there was no intention on allowing access? 2. I'm sure this is against NHS guidelines around proxy access? 3. How do I get proxy access to my son's medical records? Does a nearly 2 year old have to sign consent himself? I'm sure he's happily scrawl all over a piece of paper if that's what's needed but seems a little unnecessary!! How is this going to be resolved? I can't be the only parent/carer questioning this 'protocol'."

Experience:	"I had to wait 2 weeks for an appointment for my 13-year-old regarding and anomaly on an ECG, my appointment was at 10.30am which I arrived 5 minutes early. We had to wait for 1 hour and 10 minutes with no explanation. We ended up seeing a different doctor to that which was arranged for the appointment as he was unhappy with the wait time. This then led to us feeling rushed as he was squeezing us in between other appointments."

Experience:	Patient said "We only moved to Bridlington in August and not knowing what was going on with GP surgeries just registered with Manor House but not been impressed so far. Have had problems with repeat medication not being issued, spending 50 mins trying to get through to surgery. Not able to even pre-book an appointment. Told everyone must use online consultation and you may be offered appointment. Does anyone know if we would be able to change as worried in case, we needed to see GP urgently? I am sure other people are concerned and this post could be useful for all. Others may have had positive experiences with the practice but sadly not us."

Experience:	Patient said "There are never any appointments left at Fieldhouse. Try looking online and its minimum of 8 weeks waiting. Yes, I know that you have to ring at the moment with all the changeover nonsense, but not a cat in hells chance of getting through at 8 in the morning for an appointment. I have had to previously send an e mail to get a smear test booked in, and the same for trying to get a blood test to check my thyroxine levels. I have just given up and lost patience. When I am ill in hospital then they will know about it, wont they!! "

Experience:	Family of the patient said "My daughter had an "episode" yesterday. She has had several episodes recently which involves her eyesight going strange, (she is 28). Yesterday it happened and she couldn't speak. I phoned 111 who said she needed to see her GP within 2 hours. I phoned surgery who said they had no appts. I told her what 111 had said and she replied, "what do you expect me to do"? I replied make me an appt please. She said she couldn't and that we had to go to the urgent treatment and wait! Several hours later, she was told, it was "just one of those things, and to make an appt at the new surgery once she is moved across!" Disgraceful service I feel! It was bad before, but it's crumbled to shambles since covid."

So she would have to go up to the hospital!!! My Mum isn't tech savvy she wouldn't know how to use the App or how to book an appointment on the computer either. (She's 74) so how on earth are people meant to get Drs appointments!! I had to talk her into letting me take her as she felt it was an unnecessary cause, something which her GP could have sorted, which they could have IF she had the chance to make an appointment!! Your system seriously needs sorting!! "

Experience:	Patient said "How can Humber Primary Care be allowed to turn off online consultations because too many people have used the service presumably because they cannot get through on the phone if more than 10 people are in the queue. We were told to use online consultations instead of the phone but now they have turned that off too."

Experience:	Patient said" After 5 weeks of trying to manage a painful situation I gave in and through engage consult sought advice and was offered an appointment almost immediately. That done, the outcome was two treatments one being oral medication for pain. I was advised my prescription would be sent to my local pharmacist. That hasn't happened and it will be 7days on Monday since my appointment. I accept my situation is not life threatening or critical, but as they say a week is a long time in politics and my pain! Given the current clinicians' crisis, I am at a loss to understand why the competent and helpful nurse practitioner who assessed my pain was not able to prescribe on this occasion? Does HPC have such a policy in place? It would have been a godsend to me and certainly saved 2 post appointment visits to the surgery and three to the pharmacy. I speak from experience in other parts of the country as to the success of prescribing practitioner nurses through my many years working as a health and social care practitioner and also from working in the health care regulatory services."

Experience:	Patient husband said "Having had a great experience with the engage system a few weeks ago when contacting Humber Primary Care, we decided to try it again yesterday for a new problem my wife has. Despite having to answer 50+ questions many of which were irrelevant we got through it and my wife subsequently received a call from a clinician this afternoon. So far so good. Having described her symptoms once again over the phone my wife was told she needed to make an appointment for blood tests (the clinician was unable to make it for some reason). Deciding that the telephone option was probably a non-starter and the engage system would delay matters at least another day I drove her down to the surgery at Station Avenue where the very pleasant receptionist advised the earliest appointment would be 15th March ...3 weeks away!! Are they just so busy that they can't fit in a five-minute appointment for bloods to be taken or are there simply not enough nurses at the practice? This would mean a 3 to 4 week delay before she even gets to see a clinician to get a diagnosis and work out next steps. Only option we now have is to phone the hospital tomorrow to try for an appointment there. It's hugely disappointing when Humber Primary Care can't even provide such a simple procedure in a relatively timely manner. Are things improving there? Unfortunately, I'm not sure they are."

Experience:	Patient said "Just had a wasted appointment at practice 2. Waited all day in absolute agony to see a nurse who told me it's too soon for them to contact my consultant and that I should contact them

	directly. I wanted the appointment to nip in the bud my symptoms before things escalate. The nurse also proceeded to tell me I've got this condition for the rest of my life, and I need to get used to flare ups and that it's not as bad as last time when she could barely touch my painful area without me yelling in pain and they never saw me last time. If only I could have been told at the time of me booking my appointment I needed to contact my consultant, I would of save time and resources. To top off my frustration, my consultant's secretary has left so I've now got to find a way to contact my consultant and somehow get an urgent appointment. If only the relationship between GPs and consultants were better than patients would have better care and wouldn't be stuck in the middle and left in pain."

I haven't been able to book an appointment for weeks on the NHS App. All it was offering was appointments over a month in advance of whatever date it was when I tried, so gave up. The telephone line is a joke and keeps cutting out most of the time when you try to get through. Good job can still order repeat prescriptions otherwise would be right up the creek without a paddle."

I was offered a telephone appointment 3 weeks in the future for my 3 year old twins who had been suffering with severe diarrhoea and sickness for 3 days, it doesn't even make sense! Service Name:	Dentist
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	28 February 2023
Experience:	Patients were complaining about dentists or the lack of them in Bridlington area. They are aware that can ring NHS dental but they also mentioned that sometimes they avoid it because in order to be seen they need to go far and with the cost of living it's not possible.
Experience:	Can't get access to an NHS dentist. Patient reported being on a waiting list for 4 years and they have wonky teeth that affects their image.
Experience:	No access to NHS dentistry. Kicked off the list as hadn't visited in a while. Counted the pandemic as an absence between appointments.
Experience:	Patient reported that they can't get access to an NHS dentist
Experience:	This patients' dentist (in Beverly) has gone private and needs a new dentist
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Healthwatch shared the signposting it has with regards to dental services and ensured that they knew to phone NHS111 if in pain.

Service Name:	Dentist
Identified By:	Telephone	Date Recorded:	10 February 2023
Experience:	87 year old lady rang as she was experiencing pain and difficulty eating due to her dentures not fitting her any more. She had tried ringing NHS 111 who told her to ring round local dentists. She had done this but none could offer her an NHS appointment. She also tried contacting denture services but they could not help unless she was referred by a dentist. She was distressed as the roof of her mouth was very sore and she said that her dentures moved about all the time particularly when she was eating as they no longer fitted her. As a result she could eat nothing but soup or soft mash. Most distressingly it had got back to her that people had complained about the noise of her eating at groups she attended which she said were a life-line to her so she was desperate to sort her problem out but no one would help.
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Healthwatch representative listened to the lady and empathised with her difficulty. Took down her contact details and said they would ring round and see if they could find her an NHS appointment. . HW representative sent an email of our usual dental advice and details of emergency dentists in Hull. Also rang several dental surgeries in Bridlington and Scarborough but the only NHS service could not offer her an appointment until May/June time even though she was in pain. Tried denture repairers but they said they needed the patient to be referred by a dentist and an impression in order to help. Tried ringing Ayer Dental in Hull. Explained the lady's situation to the receptionist who asked me to email her the details and she would see what she could do. Sent an email explaining about the pain and difficulties eating and her restricted diet and also that I was concerned she may stop attending her groups which could have a very detrimental effect on her health. Ayer Dental emailed back to ask if we could put the lady's details in their online form and then she would try to get her an appointment in 6 to 8 weeks. Rang lady back. Got her permission to give her details including DOB. Rang Ayer Dental and obtained an appointment for Mrs Hanks on 20th April. She was very grateful and relieved to have found a dentist to help.

Service Name:	Mydentist Norwood
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	3 February 2023
Experience:	I would give zero stars if this was an option. Absolutely appalling customer service putting me off even attending the practice completely. I called with a simple question to be greeted by a rather rude and off-hand receptionist. It is not my fault that dentist practices are currently being bombarded with patients so therefore there is absolutely no reason to have someone project their own frustration, regarding the matter, down the phone line to a possible paying customer. It is a good job you have too many patients currently as you wouldn't be receiving anymore with the state of the horrific attitude of your frontline of customer service.

Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	3 February 2023
Experience:	"Phoned to make an appointment to learn I've been removed from the list as have not attended for a few years. Have you forgotten about the pandemic? My family were given appointments in the last few weeks after exactly the same period of time without a check-up. When I pointed this out, I was told we cannot discuss other patients, who are my son's, aged 6 and 9. Using that principle of capacity and confidentiality, would you accept a 6 year old consent for a dental procedure? A policy of 'making it up as you go along'. I work in healthcare and would not deliver this level of care to my patients."

Urgent Treatment Centres

Service Name:	Local Authority
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	8 February 2023
Experience:	Patient reported waiting 4 hours in the UTC for an X-ray. By the time she was seen X-ray had closed and she was told to return the next day. This involved using patient transport as they had no access to a car. The next day they returned and waited a further 5 hours to have their arm plastered. Patient reported that every time you are seen, you then join another queue and the wait in between is very long. The system just takes forever. The patient reported that staff were amazing and had a brilliant attitude despite the number of people there.

Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Healthwatch reported that they would report this experience in their monthly intelligence report and discussed how to make a complaint if they wished to do so. The patient felt that this would make no difference as it was all a mess.

Lived Experiences

6.1 Areas for Improvement

Please note: some experiences can have multiple intelligence or compliments and may contain both intelligence and compliments.

Service Name:	Sandhall Park
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	13 February 2023
Experience:	"Following recent visits to Sandhall Park to see my partner's Mum, we found some staff to be quite unprofessional. Basic care tasks were unmet leaving her with food-stained clothes and unkempt hair. On a couple of occasions, I witnessed moving and handling techniques to be very poor. Very disappointed all-round."

Service Name:	Beverley Parklands Care Home
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	28 February 2023
Experience:	"My mother, who is now 97, has been living at Beverley Parklands on a permanent basis since my dad died over two years ago. She and Dad had also lived there together, for a period after Dad broke a hip. Although Mum is no longer as physically active as she once was, she still retains her full mental faculties and would, as she always used to, complain if standards were below her expectations. Since arriving at Parklands her only real main gripe has been that some of the other residents are somewhat hard of hearing and they can't hear what she's talking to them about!"

Service Name:	Rossmore Care Home, Spring Bank Hull
Identified By:	Telephone	Date Recorded:	10 February 2023

Experience:	Mrs Tooley told us that her daughter had chosen Rossmore Care Home for her because the website indicated that the home had gardens, activities that she would like and, most importantly, that they could cater for her special dietary requirements. She believes that the website should be taken down as it is not a fair reflection of what is on offer. For example: 1a. They could cater for her specialist dietary requirements - the website it states, "Our excellent home cooking caters for special dietary requirements, providing nutritious meals." Mrs Tooley told us that having pancreatitis limits what she is able to eat. She said that although she made the home aware of her dietary requirements, not only were alternative meals provided for her but the extra vegetables she asked for to compensate for not being able to eat other things were very sparse indeed. She mentioned that one of the meals was fish (which she can eat) with potatoes and mushy peas. Mrs Tooley complained that the piece of fish she had was tiny and there were only a few pieces of potato. She said that the fresh fruit provided by the home was too hard to eat and suggested that stewing the apple and pear might enable older people to be able to eat it. Mrs Tooley told Healthwatch that she had to ask friends to bring in food for her and do an online shop. If Rossmore's website states that the home can cater for special dietary requirements then these should be catered for. 1b)) Activities & Garden - the website states that there are daily

activities and 3 gardens. Mrs Tooley was told there was no outside space she could use when she asked to go outside. During her 2 weeks at the home Mrs Tooley said she was only aware that there was bingo on one day. 2. Care Staff - While Mrs Tooley told us that there were some outstanding carers at Rossmore and wanted to feedback that Julie, Night Senior, Emma, Gerry, Kerry and Codie were caring, compassionate and respectful, she was very unhappy about the way in which she was questioned by the member of staff who admitted her into Rossmore. She said when she arrived at the home she felt bombarded by questions. She said she was still in shock from her accident and found the manner in which she was questioned intimidating and aggressive. She said she was sat against a wall and that a member of staff, she believes was called Janet, sat very close in front of her, almost knee to knee. Mrs Tooley said that she felt bullied and said that the friends who had brought her were horrified at the way she was spoken to. She said one of her friends had gone home and cried at the thought of leaving her at Rossmore.

Whilst Healthwatch understand that questions have to be asked to understand resident's needs. This needs to be carried out in a sensitive and understanding manner, particularly when the person is in shock.

3. Delay in replacing medication - Mrs Tooley said that when she was admitted some essential medication had been taken off her as the bottle indicated that it was out of date. Mrs Tooley said she had explained to Janet that the medication was new but she had just put it in that bottle for convenience. The tablets prevent acid reflux. It is crucial for her to take these before meals to help control her pancreatitis. Despite her explanation and protests her medication was thrown away.

Whilst Healthwatch understand that it is necessary to follow safety procedures regarding medication, Mrs Tooley was admitted on the Sunday. Despite her explaining how important these tablets were in helping to control a very serious condition, they were not replaced until Wednesday, meaning she was without them for 3 days. This resulted in her being extremely sick due to a build-up of acid which she says has left her with a raw throat.

4. Covid infection control procedures - Whilst she was at Rossmore Mrs Tooley contracted Covid. She was moved into isolation, which she totally understood. However, the following

	day Janet moved Mrs Tooley into a room with another lady. The other lady told Mrs Tooley she did not have Covid. She also said that she had an appointment the following day at Hull Royal Infirmary. Mrs Tooley questions why she was moved into this room when she could have infected the other lady with Covid and they would then be going to the hospital. 5. Loss or damage to clothing whilst in the laundry - Mrs Tooley also mentioned that, despite her clothes having her name in, some of her clothes went missing and others came back from the laundry shrunk. Mrs Tooley also made us aware that the home was not cleaned very thoroughly and that the cleaner did not mop into the corners of the room, nor under the beds.
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Healthwatch Hull received Mrs Tooley's call originally but passed it to HWERY as Mrs Tooley lives in the East Riding. HWERY Representative rang Mrs Tooley and listened to her experiences. Typed an email to the Manager of Rossmore so that they could address the various issues Mrs Tooley had raised. The Manager has been given a deadline to reply after which we will refer Mrs Tooley's complaints to the CQC. Issues typed up into the CRM in order that they appear on our intelligence report.
