1. Introduction

What we do

Healthwatch East Riding is the independent consumer champion for health and social care. We have the power and influence to ensure people's voices are heard by those providing and commissioning local health and social care services. In addition to seeking the public's views ourselves, we also encourage services to involve people in decisions that affect them.

Healthwatch also has a statutory power to 'Enter and View' local services; where we provide recommendations for improvement. To find out more, please visit: <https://www.healthwatcheastridingofyorkshire.co.uk/enter-and-view/>

Every month, Healthwatch gathers information from the public about local health and social care services; which is shared anonymously with the providers and commissioners of these services. This process allows for issues to be addressed as early as possible in order to prevent further escalation.

This Report

The detail in this report applies to October 2023 and refers to the information Healthwatch has received and researched during this period. The report provides the nature of experiences, the intelligence, and emerging trends during each quarterly period for a range of care types and providers.

The service areas highlighted in these reports are as follows:

- Primary Care
- Secondary Care
- Urgent Emergency Care
- Mental Health Services
- Community Services
- Other Services

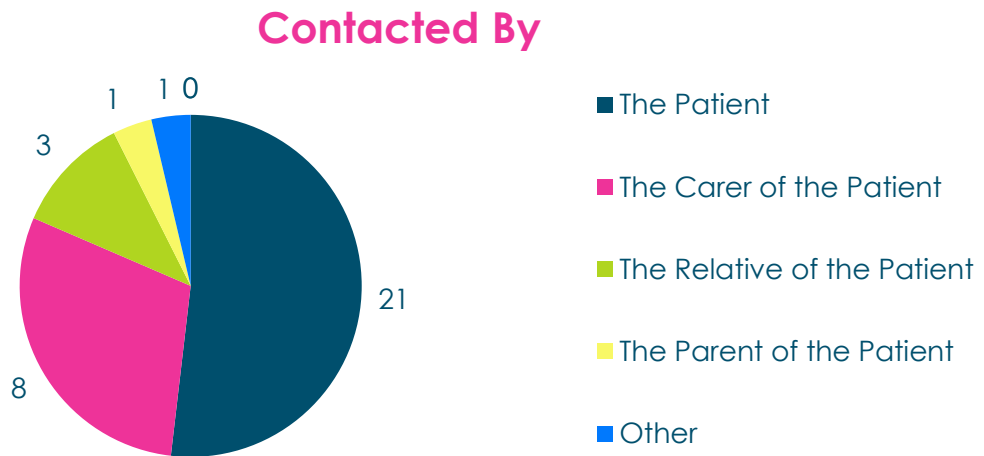

In-addition to this, our report also includes information highlighting the ongoing support provided by the NHS Independent Complaints Advocacy Service.

Please note: All experiences have been anonymised and where quotes are given, they have been recorded as provided to ensure we capture the authenticity of the experience. All experiences in this report have been received and researched in good faith and where contact details have been provided, and if required, explored.

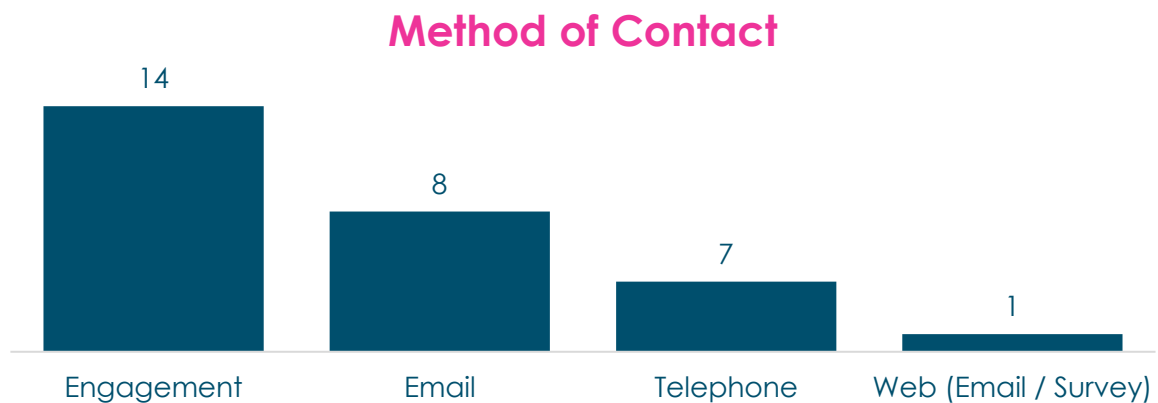

Following the publication of this report, we are happy to receive feedback from service providers using the enquires@healthwatcheastridingofyorksire.co.uk as it provides confidence to the public that their experiences are valued, acknowledged and acted upon.

Negative Experiences

Service Name:	The Ridings Medical Practice
Identified By:	Telephone	Date Recorded:	31 October 2023
Experience:	Patient received a letter from CEO at The Ridings saying the patient was making complaints that were without foundation, wasting NHS resources and that if she complained again, she will not receive a response. Patient was furious. She has made several complaints and said that she has no faith in the practice as they have let her down several times, but all her complaints made had foundation. Patient went to Ombudsman who said they would not be able to allocate a case worker for several months. She contacted ER council and the GMC as she knows them. They said they would take this over, but she wanted Healthwatch to be aware of this issue.
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Issue logged on CRM for inclusion in monthly report. Patient has raised it with member of GMC and ER Council

----------------	-----------	----------------	----------------

Experience:	Lady tried to register with a new GP surgery having moved to the area. Receptionist told her she needed 2 forms of ID. Lady had checked the NHS website and said she didn't need ID, receptionist insisted she would need these to register. Senior receptionist said he was looking at the NHS website and she did need ID. Lady knew this was wrong and felt uncomfortable as she knew he was lying. She offered to print out the NHS pages she had seen and asked if they would accept this. Receptionist said No. Lady felt hurt and uncomfortable and felt they were discriminating against her for being a person of colour. Lady wrote to practice to complain. Receipt of her letter was acknowledged within 3 days but she has still not heard back 3 months later regarding her complaint. She had been told she would need to give the practice 6 months to respond before taking complaint to Ombudsman.

Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Lady contacted Healthwatch to see if there was anything else she could do to expedite response to her complaint by GP surgery as she had already waited 3 months and had to wait another 3 months to complain to ombudsman about lack of response from GP surgery. Lady refused to give her name, contact details or say which GP surgery. HW representative said we would record her complaint anonymously on our CRM for inclusion in monthly intelligence report.

----------------	-----------	----------------	-----------------

Experience:	The patient visited their GP surgery with cancer concerns due to a lump and was referred for further investigation. The parent of the patient is concerned by the length of the waiting list as they have been told it will be a minimum of two months before the next appointment. With cancer concerns, the patient and their parent would have liked more reassurance, but having seen a locum GP they feel as though there is a lack of continuity of care.
-------------	---

Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	The experience will be anonymously reported by HWERY.

Service Name:	The Medical Centre, Driffield	PCN:	Yorkshire Coast and the Wolds PCN
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	5 October 2023
Experience:	The patient told HWERY that it is difficult to access appointments at their GP surgery. The patient waits for 30 minutes on the phone to reach reception, and after that the phone lines cut out and they must recall the surgery and rejoin the queue.
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	The experience will be documented in the HWERY Intelligence report.

Service Name:	The Park Surgery, Driffield	PCN:	Yorkshire Coast and the Wolds PCN
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	5 October 2023
Experience:	The patient told HWERY that they have not been able to see their GP in a face-to-face appointment in 3 years. The patient was not happy with the online triage system; they waited 3 months for an appointment which wasn't with who they wanted it with.
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	The patient was assured their experience would be anonymously reported by HWERY.

---------------	-----------------------------	------	-----------------------------------

Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	5 October 2023
Experience:	The daughter of the patient told Healthwatch ERY that her mother was given a stage 4 cancer diagnosis via letter with no follow up support. The patient was given a 3–9-month life expectancy, and had not had a referral to Macmillan after 6 months. Once the patient did get to see a Macmillan nurse, she was told she was "too well" for her care, despite being under palliative care. The patient's husband is her carer, however he is also unwell himself. The daughter of the patient describes the process after diagnosis as like being "left dangling on a string".
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	The daughter of the patient was assured that their experience would be anonymously documented by Healthwatch ERY.

Service Name:	The Park Surgery, Driffield	PCN:	Yorkshire Coast and the Wolds PCN
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	5 October 2023
Experience:	The patient told Healthwatch ERY that they have found it hard to get a face-to-face appointment with a GP, as they have gone through online triage to wait 3 weeks for an appointment which isn't with a GP. When ringing the reception, the patient finds the receptionists "rude", and is told to go online instead. The patient was given a referral for a procedure; however the letter went to a resident in York instead, and the patient missed their appointment as a result. The patient would like to change GP surgeries but is worried that long waiting times could leave them without care that they need.
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	The patient was assured that their experience would be anonymously documented by Healthwatch ERY, and information was provided as to how to find a new GP surgery should they wish to change.

Service Name:	GP Surgery
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	6 October 2023
Experience:	The patient developed stroke-like symptoms affecting his ability to carry out everyday tasks. The patient's wife took him to the GP who then sent the patient for a memory assessment. At the GP appointment following the assessment, the patient and his wife/now carer were not given a formal diagnosis. They were told the GP "thought it was" dementia, though no treatment or medication was prescribed. The patient still has dementia/stroke-like symptoms but his wife is left confused as to what his diagnosis is, how to care for him, what to expect, or what support is available.

Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	The carer of the patient was advised to contact their GP Practice to have the diagnosis clarified and explained to herself and her partner, and to allow them to access further services. HWERY contact details were passed on to the carer should there be any further issues with this.

Service Name:	GP Surgery
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	6 October 2023
Experience:	During an engagement in Goole, members of the public told HWERY that the access to Flu and Covid vaccinations in the area is poor. One person was told that they are only available for people over 75, whilst another was told their father could not get the vaccines as he is "not vulnerable" despite him being 90 years old and diagnosed with Alzheimer's dementia.
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Members of this group were assured that their concerns would be anonymously documented in the HWERY monthly intelligence report.

Experience:	On 2nd Nov I will be making a 180 mile round trip from Bridlington (where I live) to Sheffield (where I used to live) for a 15 minute dental appt. This is because of the lack of NHS dentists in Bridlington, we have one dental surgery to serve a population of 40,000 residents. I am not the only person living in Bridlington who has to make a long journey for a check up/treatment. And the situation will only get worse due to the number of new houses currently being and due to be built.

Lived Experiences

Please note: some experiences can have multiple intelligence or compliments and may contain both intelligence and compliments.

Service Name:	Hull Royal Infirmary
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	5 October 2023
Experience:	"My 15yo was fasted from 07:00am for a 12:30admission. She was told that she was first on the list by the anaesthetist, this was changed to last on the operating list and she was not informed. She was sent for and waited in the theatre waiting area only to be told at 4:45pm that she was being cancelled due to an emergency however when the hospital rang to rebook her op date I was informed that she had been cancelled as the operating list had overrun in the morning and so they didn't have time to do her. An honest answer and being kept up to date live time with what was happening regarding her care would have been very helpful and also saved a lot of heartache and one very upset patient who has been left extremely apprehensive about going back in again."

Service Name:	Hull Royal Infirmary
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	25 October 2023
Experience:	"With a confirmed diagnosis of bilateral subdural haematoma, I felt that I was not listened to when I described what may have caused it and felt fobbed off with a small dose of amitriptyline to 'manage the headache'. It's not a migraine or cluster headache of unknown origin, I have bleeding inside my skull which is getting worse over the past few weeks and which is not going to be resolved by 10mg of amitriptyline. I told the doctor that I had 2 separate head injuries late last year but he didn't seem interested. Now, I can't even get my GP to re-refer me in view of the pain becoming significantly worse of late, to the point that sneezing, coughing, bending down etc are agonising. Do I just wait until a serious bleed occurs causing me long-term damage? As a practising nurse and long-term NHS supporter, I really do feel let down currently."

Service Name:	Hull Royal Infirmary
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	5 October 2023
Experience:	"Attended Children's Emergency with 11 years old son who twisted his ankle to check if it's not broken after calling 111 first. Arrived at 6:30pm, as agreed with 111. It's 11:20pm and we are still waiting. How is this possible that simple x-ray takes around 6 hours! When information board shows that waiting time to be seen is 2hrs and 48 minutes! Surely something is wrong in here."
Service Name:	Hull Royal Infirmary
Identified By:	Research	Date Recorded:	17 October 2023
Experience:	"Attend A&E at 11:10. Long wait to triage, not confidential, other patients could hear! 3hr wait to see nurse. But very happy with my care once with them, friendly and confident. Assessed by a wonderful Doctor who had a lovely bed side manner. Great joint decision making."
Service Name:	Ward 130
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	11 October 2023
Experience:	Patient staying on ward 130 at Hull Royal says that she has no idea as to when she's meant to be discharged and has been on the ward a lot longer than patients are meant to (patients are only meant to stay on ward 130 for 48 hours).
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Healthwatch informed the patient that if she wishes to complain then she can either ask staff to send a PALS representative up to speak to her or can ask a friends or family member to do so on her behalf.
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	11 October 2023

Experience:	Patient staying on ward 130 (patients stay on this ward when they are near discharge) says that it's 'terrible on this ward'. Patient reported that it's noisy on a night and when the patient is trying to sleep during the day it's almost impossible because of the noise and how bright it is. Patient also reported that she had been on the ward for over a week now and hasn't been told anything about when she is going home.
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Healthwatch reported that if the patient wishes to complain then either the patient or family/friends should contact PALS. We also informed the patient that she can ask for a PALS representative to be brought up to the ward if she would rather make a complaint while she is still on the ward.

Service Name:	Hull Royal Infirmary
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	10 October 2023

Service Name:	Bridlington Hospital
Identified By:	Email	Date Recorded:	24 October 2023
Experience:	"Most outpatient appointments in Bridlington are miles away. Over the past few years I've had to travel to Sheffield, York, Malton, Scarborough, Hull with my late husband who was terminally ill. Since he died I've had appointments in Scarborough, Driffield, Wakefield, Hull and Bridlington. I'm 80 yrs old and it's really difficult getting to places so far away. We have a poor transport system in Bridlington. My last appointment in Hull was at 9am ! I had to leave home very very early, get a train to Hull and then walk to the hospital from the station. I don't think this is acceptable when we have a hospital in close proximity."
Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	None.

Service Name:	Bridlington Hospital
Identified By:	Email	Date Recorded:	28 October 2023
Experience:	"My husband was put on the waiting list, for a total knee replacement, in August 2022. In May 2023 he rang to ask when it might take place and was told August 2023 or thereabouts. We therefore booked a holiday for December 2023 (which allowed plenty of time for recovery before we went away and time for it to be reasonably delayed). He rang in May 2023 and told them the dates of our holiday. This week, on around 24 October 2023, they rang and offered him 15 November, which is just over three weeks before our holiday - NHS guidelines state no overseas travel by air until four weeks after an operation. He was told if he didn't take this date he would be removed from the waiting list and would have to return to his GP to ask for a further, urgent, referral."

Lived Experience – Intelligence

Service Name:	Home Care
Identified By:	Email	Date Recorded:	23 October 2023
Experience:	Equipment:

I have been without a functioning pressure relief mattress since August 2023. Due to my personal needs I require a very specific type not provided as standard (special order). NRS Healthcare and district nurses are basically arguing over who's responsibility it is; meanwhile I have been sleeping on my sofa. I luckily receive 24/7 care at home, which means my carers are working hard to ensure my skin stays healthy - but that means I get less sleep (because I have to be moved regularly to prevent sores). I've been using this same piece of equipment many years, and every time something goes wrong I have this exact same problem. Why can't it just be repaired and replaced as needed? Why do I have to suffer because no one will take financial responsibility? I've been getting help from my local MP, but that doesn't seem to have made much difference.

On top of that, I was mis-sold a piece of equipment on my wheelchair by NRS Healthcare. It's a USB port, essential for running my adaptive technology (controls around my home). They told me if I bought it, I would not need to pay anything thereafter — any repairs or replacements would go through disability services. So I did (£170). The device has since broken. Wheelchair services have been replaced by AJM Healthcare, and they said it's not covered by PWB. With cost of living, I currently do not have the money to afford this.

AJM have otherwise been ok; however, I have so far had very few positive experiences with NRS.

Care:

My current circumstances are great. I receive 24/7 care in my own home, and am able to experience a normal life & pursue a career as an artist (which is perfect for me). However, in order to receive this care, I had to get a solicitor involved. Multiple times social services have tried to force me into a care home by reducing my hours of care. Because of this, every time I am reassessed I get a lot of anxiety. Questions are very invasive, and they often use questionable methods in an attempt to convince you to move into a care home, much like manipulation and gaslighting... Suggesting that my funding is taking away from others in need and it's selfish to want to live independently, that if I were in a care home I would be cheaper to keep, etc... Also, they only seem to conduct reassessments when minimum wage increases — my other disabled friends have noticed this pattern too (so it's pretty obvious the assessment isn't looking for ways to help me, but for ways to save money). Also, the contributions I am expected to pay are very expensive — they take almost all of my ESA. Every time my ESA has increased (in recognition of the cost of living going up), my contribution amount increases, so the money never actually helps me be in a comfortable financial position (e.g. where I could actually have enough savings to go on holiday).

Public Transport services:

Hull City Council boasts that they have the most accessible taxis; from my experience, this is not true. Many taxis advertise wheelchair access, but very few will take electric wheelchairs. Furthermore, I am yet to find one that works after midnight, which means if I don't have a carer who can drive for me, I can't go out socialising with my friends at any gigs, late night events, nightclubs, or pubs, like anyone else can do. Taxi services for disabled also cost substantially more; I tested with an able friend — we both got a separate taxi from my home to theirs. Their taxi cost £12.50, mine cost £18! This can get very frustrating.

Busses I have had mixed experiences — most will not get out to put the ramp down, so public have lifted me over the gap (which is scary). There's also no way to secure your wheelchair in place and an experience where my chair slid across the floor almost hitting a pram has completely put me off using this service.

Trains I have had mostly positive experiences; however, some trainlines will not allow you to reserve seating — for the average person, this is ok; however, when you consider the train has only 2 wheelchair spaces available, it's very unfair to those of us who miss out simply because we weren't at the front of the queue on arrival (and potentially expensive, if you add the cost of a cab to get to the station; also risky, when wheelchairs have limited battery life). Furthermore, one of my carers has a disability where they cannot walk long distances and require a small mobility scooter — I was shocked to find that some train services will deny us access, or we had to apply for special passes to take the scooter onboard (around 12 days in advance of travelling). Northern Rail seems to be among the worst for this. These practices feel discriminatory and generally unfair.

Actions Taken: (Healthwatch)	Information passed onto Community Services project officer for followup
Service Name:	A&B Healthcare
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	11 October 2023
Experience:	The husband of the patient says that home carers are "too rushed" and that their 30 minute appointments are not sufficient. Often he waited for the carers for so long that he himself had to get his wife up and dressed as they couldn't wait longer, despite him not being well himself. The carers then arrive after the patient is cared for.

Service Name:	A&B Healthcare
Identified By:	Engagement	Date Recorded:	11 October 2023
Experience:	The husband of the patient told HWERY that the home-carers often did not arrive on time, and that he sometimes had to cancel their visit if they couldn't wait any longer for them. At one point, the patient went two weeks with no carers visiting. The husband told us that changes in schedules were not well communicated with him and he was often left waiting and confused. However, he did say that when the carers were there they were lovely, but there is just not enough of them.

7. Independent NHS Complaints Advocacy

Service

The Independent NHS Complaints Advocacy Service is a free, independent, statutory advocacy service, funded and commissioned by local authorities.

In the East Riding, this service is delivered by our partner organisation, Cloverleaf Advocacy and supports East Riding residents who want to make a complaint about NHS commissioned services.

Through the support it provides, the Independent NHS Complaints Advocacy Service ensures local people have their voice and concerns heard by providers and commissioners of local services. By allocating an advocate who will speak confidentially to them about their concerns and help them to understand the different options available at each stage of the complaint's procedure.
