Introduction

The contents of this report refers to intelligence gained within the month of October 2022.

The intelligence detailed in this report was partially gained through the Healthwatch England's online feedback form. This is a form in which individuals can detail their experience of health and social care in their area, which is then made available to all local Healthwatch's on a monthly basis. These comments are anonymous and therefore have not gone through the same escalation process that comments directed to the East Riding of Yorkshire normally undertake. When submitting their comment using Healthwatch England online feedback form, the individual was asked for their permission to have their response "stored by Healthwatch in accordance with their privacy statement so that they can use it help improve the delivery of health and care services across the country and in the area in which I live". All of the comments in this report come from individuals that have given their permission.

Furthermore, there are some comments that were gained over the telephone, through the enquiries email process, or which were signposted to us.

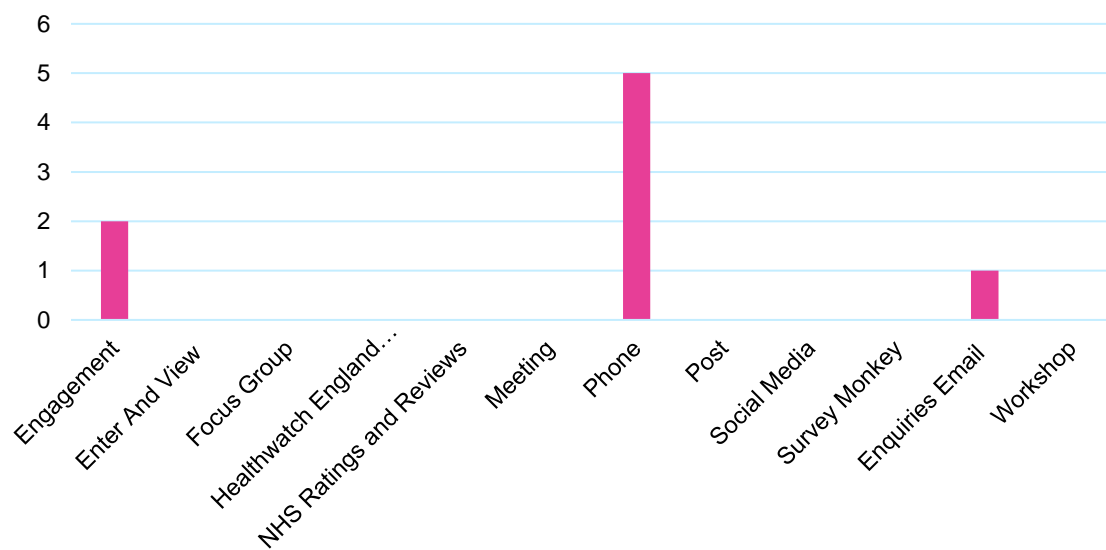

All data is anonymized and is based solely on the patient experience. For the purpose of this report, we have categorized the patient experience under appropriate headings and included direct quotations relating to the specific service.

This report shows the sentiment of the comments received on the service, direct quotations to reinforce the sentiment and show real life experiences and concludes by highlighting the reoccurring themes of the intelligence. In addition to this, this report features a summary of the East Riding of Yorkshire NHS Advocacy team Cloverleaf's themes for September 2022.

Hospital Intelligence

Below details the intelligence Healthwatch East Riding received on hospital services in the month of October 2022.

What people told us:

We received a query regarding being charged for NHS services without first being made aware. Patient reported that they had recently received an invoice from Castle Hill hospital. They are a UK Citizen who works abroad on short term contracts. They returned home for medical treatment for a recurrent medical issue first treated whilst they were resident in the UK at Hull Royal Infirmary. The same issue had not been treated properly hence return visits to the UK. The patient reported that they had not been informed that they could be charged for NHS services at the time of treatment. Patient then received an invoice three months later requesting a large sum of money. The patient was referred by their GP to the hospital.

Healthwatch Action

We enquired to Cloverleaf Advocacy Service to see if this case was appropriate for referral to them and received confirmation that it was. Patient referred to Cloverleaf.

Patient complained to PALS about NHS treatment. Patient has still not heard back after 5 months.

Healthwatch Action

Patient given details for Cloverleaf Advocacy Service.

GP Intelligence

Below details the intelligence Healthwatch East Riding received regarding GP practices in the month of October 2022.

Themes of Intelligence

What people told us:

Patient was sent for head scan by their GP. After 2 weeks patient was sent a report but they wanted further information and were not able to find a reliable source for this online. They wrote to their GP to ask for further information but have heard nothing back. Patient felt they were left confused and wondering what to do.

Healthwatch Action

Healthwatch suggested making an appointment to see GP and asking them directly for information.

Paid carer reported that they have concerns around GPs refusing to come out to an elderly lady who was coughing up, what was described as lots of blood. Carer reported that they just prescribed antibiotics and then when rang again on the patient's behalf as they were still coughing up lots of blood they refused to come out again and just said to keep taking the antibiotics. The carer couldn't understand why the GP would not attend when this elderly lady had such worrying symptoms.

Healthwatch Action

Informed individuals that this issue would be recorded within our monthly intelligence report.

Patient suffered a blocked salivary gland approximately 6 years ago so recognised symptoms when this recurred. Patient was prescribed antibiotics when this happened before. Patient became unwell and was in pain. When patient rang the surgery and asked to speak to a GP as he needed antibiotics he was told by the care navigator that he needed to see the dentist. He then asked to speak to the practice manager. The doctor rang him back and prescribed antibiotics. When he saw his dentist the following week for a check-up the dentist saw that there was a mass there and told him he needed to go to A&E.

Healthwatch Action

Patient wanted this issue to be recorded within our monthly intelligence report and didn't want to complain further.

Patient complained that they only found out that their GP practice had been taken over by 'The Ridings' because they rang the surgery. No information had been sent out by the practice letting patients know that this change was happening.

Healthwatch Action

Patient wanted this issue to be recorded within our monthly intelligence report and didn't want to complain further.

Patient rang the GP surgery in extreme pain with her back. She asked for an appointment to see a GP and was told there were no appointments available for 2 months. Patient's husband rang the surgery back to say that it was totally unacceptable that his wife, who was in considerable pain and distress, had to wait so long for an appointment. Patient's husband told that there were emergency, same day, appointments available and the best way to access them was to ring back when the surgery opened in the morning. The patient turned out to have 2 fractured discs in her spine.

Healthwatch Action

Patient wanted this issue to be recorded within our monthly intelligence report and didn't want to complain further.

Below details the intelligence Healthwatch East Riding received on other services in the month of October 2022.

What people told us:

Carer's mum (96) had been in hospital for 6 weeks with a swollen knee and septic toe which had turned into Sepsis. Carer said she had not been assessed before discharge so they'd had to take her to their home to look after her. Carer said he'd needed to buy a wheelchair and hoist as his mum was unable to weight-bear. Carer had had to make alterations to the house where he and his wife lived so that his mum could live downstairs. Carer and his wife live upstairs. They are now caring for her every day now and have been for over 9 months. Carer said they had contacted East Riding Social Services many weeks ago but not heard back. .

Healthwatch Action

Healthwatch contacted East Riding Social Services and spoke to a lady at the Carers' Support Service who directed us to the Community Wellbeing Team (which is the right place to go to for direct support). Healthwatch rang the carer and let them know the number they should ring and to ask for the Community Wellbeing Team.
